June Highlights

“Eat Sleep Dance Repeat”
ACMi member-producer Jamie Joseph is a dancer and choreographer who has been working with Arlington Children’s Theater and other performance groups in the area for several years. She had an ambition to create a series of how-to dance videos geared to both beginning dancers and those preparing to audition for shows and ensembles. Jamie reached out to ACMi with her idea, took advantage of the training and support all our members receive, and voila! We are delighted to introduce this brand-new series, Eat Sleep Dance Repeat. The first episode, currently airing several times a week on our Public channel, contains all the elements Jamie will present throughout the series. In a clear and easy-to-follow process, each 30-minute installment will teach a complete dance in a step-by-step manner that is accessible to all, and even includes warm-up and cool-down exercises! It all makes for a lively, educational, fun experience that will leave you ready to strut your stuff at the next available opportunity.

Arlington High School Celebrates the Class of 2018

Every high school graduation is a time of high emotion - a combination of exuberance, nostalgia, and nervous anticipation - for graduates and their families. The 2018 Arlington High School Graduation took place on Saturday, June 2, and the dicey weather kept graduates, attendees, and ACMi’s crew in suspense right up to the last minute. In the end, the sun peeked out and everything worked out very well. See for yourself by tuning into one of the re-airings on our Education channel throughout the coming weeks. Congratulations, Class of 2018 (with special wishes for our very own Gayatri Sundar Rajan)!

It’s The Battle of the Bands 2018!

One of the red-letter days on the Arlington High School calendar every year occurs on a weekend night late in January. On that evening, hundreds of students, family, and friends gather to cheer on their favorites in “The Battle of the Bands,” a good-natured competition showcasing the breadth and variety of musical creativity within the high school, and all in support of a great cause. This year’s event continued the successful run, and was sponsored by the STAND Club at the school, with all proceeds donated to a worthy charity. As a special bonus, AHS senior Sam Kim edited this year’s version with a pizzazz that is worth checking out all by itself. So don’t miss a beat, or a riff, of this year’s BotB on the Education channel.
